

After setting your budget, tackling the guest list is the next task on your to-do list. Learn how to create an invite list that everyone can live with.

	guest name	spouse/date name	number in party	guest group (bride, bride's family, bride and groom, groom's family)	address	acceptance (y/n)	seat at table #	meal request	gift received (date)	gift description	thank you sent (date)
1
2
3
4
5
6
7
8
9
10
11
12
13
14
15
16
17
18
19
20
21
22
23
24
25
26
27
28

	guest name	spouse/date name	number in party	guest group	address	acceptance (y/n)	seat at table #	meal request	gift received (date)	gift description	thank you sent (date)
29
30
31
32
33
34
35
36
37
38
39
40
41
42
43
44
45
46
47
48
49
50
51
52
53
54
55
56
57
58
59
60
61
62
63
64
65

	guest name	spouse/date name	number in party	guest group	address	acceptance (y/n)	seat at table #	meal request	gift received (date)	gift description	thank you sent (date)
66
67
68
69
70
71
72
73
74
75
76
77
78
79
80
81
82
83
84
85
86
87
88
89
90
91
92
93
94
95
96
97
98
99
100											